SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (March 31, 2016) -- Carter's Biz Cafes will host the First Annual North Bay Art & Film Festival (NBAFF) showcasing independent films and artisans from Northern California on October 7-9th, 2016 at Carter's Biz Cafes in Benicia, California. Although held in Northern California, the North Bay Arts & Film Festival is an open event and the organizers expect and have received submissions from throughout the nation and world. The NBAFF is a three-day, jam-packed experience full of original short films, arts and crafts vendors, gourmet food, craft beers and much more.

Prolific filmmaker and NBAFF Director Jacalyn Evone states, "This will be a wonderful venue for local, national and international filmmakers and artisans to feature their talent and products. With such close proximity to San Francisco and Silicon valley, we expect an exceptionally talented, socially aware and technologically connected audience." Catherine Ritch, NBAFF Coordinator said, "Benicia and the North Bay are extremely creative communities. To host an Arts & Film festival in this area just makes sense and is guaranteed to be tons of fun."

"Last year we hosted and helped sponsor the Benicia Film Festival. We realized our venue was perfect for such an event and we are honored to host the First Annual North Bay Arts & Film Festival," said Carter Rankin, CEO and Founder of Carter's Biz Cafes, a membership, co-working venture located in a 156-year old historical landmark known as the Commanding Officers Quarters. Brenda Mossa, Vendor Coordinator for the festival adds, "The combination of the works of independent filmmakers and local artisans makes this event very exciting. We expect over 50 artists and craftspeople from all over the Bay Area and Northern California."

NBAFF is in and supports the Solano County community. Part of the net proceeds will be given to a select charity: Solano County Library Foundation's "Reach Out & Read" program which has distributed over 215,000 books to children of Solano County.
